

KINGS AND QUEENS OF SPORT

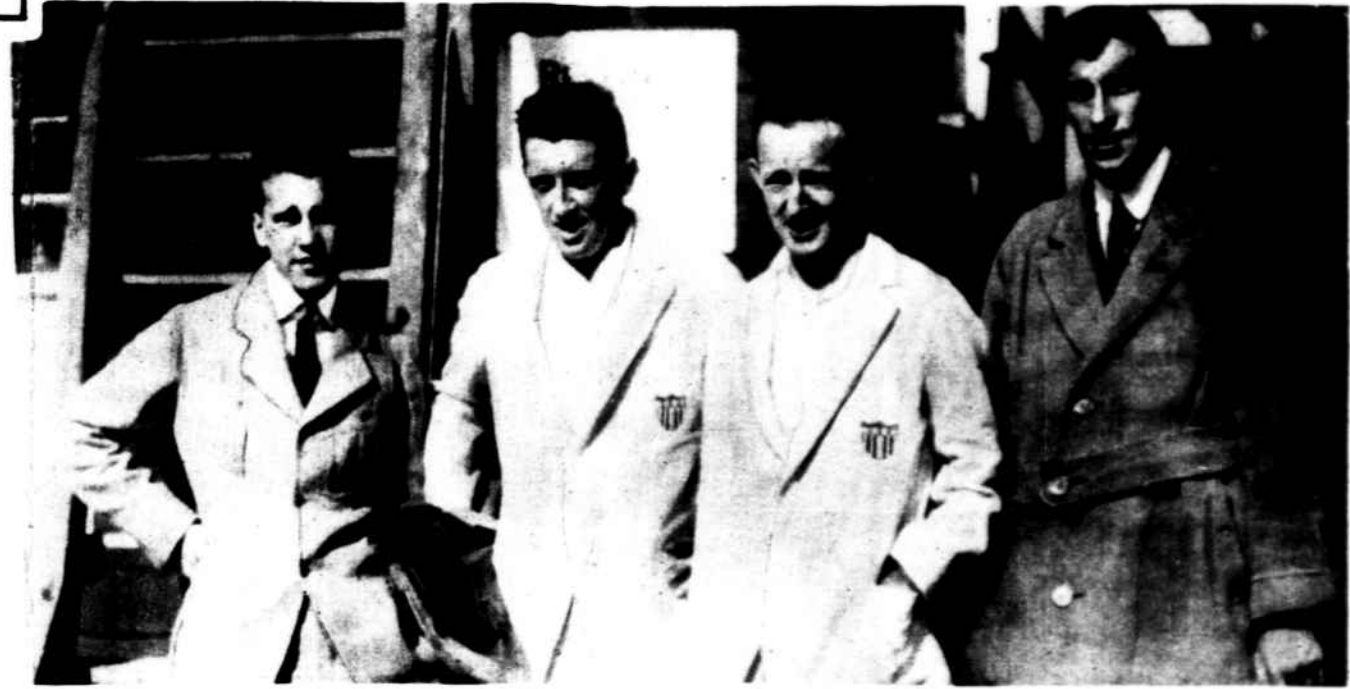

Nellis M. Carr, who, in competition, carried off the title of "Queen of the Bathing Beauties" in a contest just held in Chicago. Miss Carr was also winner of the Miami Beach, Fla., annual bathing beauty contest held this year.

She is only 7 years old, but look what little Marcia Burke, of Fort Worth, Tex., can do. She can swim for a distance of 110 feet under water. She can dive from a height of 43 feet. She is shown in the photograph with Tex Rickard.

Front row, left to right: Marine Gunner C. A. Lloyd, Lt. Comdr. E. E. Wilson, W. R. Stokes. Sgt. Fisher. Standing, left to right: Capt. J. Jackson, Maj. W. T. Waller, Lt. Comdr. Osborne, Lt. Comdr. Denny, Maj. Bowles on S. S. President Adams, on way to Milan, Italy, for the rifle tourney.

Left to right: Vin Richards, R. Norris Williams, H. C. Johnson and Bill Tilden, snapped at Chestnut Hill, Boston, recently, after Vin and Bill had added another victory to their long list.

Sergt. Morris Fisher explaining to Gen. Fred H. Phillips, secretary of International Rifle Association, workings of his rifle, on board S. S. President Adams.

Left to right: Major Vivian Lockett and Frank Hurndall, members of the British international polo team, on their arrival here.

Georges Carpentier is shown here with his wife and baby daughter, Jacqueline, spending his vacation at Pourville, France.

"Peggy Mozart," acclaimed by equine lovers as the greatest colt in the country, is shown in pasture at Readville, Mass., with its mother, "Freizer." Sleek little "Peggy" has a distinguished line of ancestry and is being reared with great things in view.

